MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED IN LEBANON

Senegalese Troops Break Into President's House: Premier And Two Ministers Arrested And Marched To Unknown Destination By French Authorities

CAIRO, November 11.

The Premier of Lebanon, Raid el Solh, and two other Lebanese Ministers have been arrested and taken to an unknown destination, it is learned here today. The Lebanese President has also been arrested.

It is stated Senegalese troops broke into his house at four this morning and removed him to some unknown destination. Reports say that the troops used "considerable violence" to get into the President's house.

At eight o'clock this morning the French Commissioner, in a broadcast over the Beirut radio, denounced what he called a "plot against France". There is stated to be considerable excitement in the streets of Beirut.

Martial Law has been proclaimed in Lebanon, reports the "Ciaor Almiet" to-day. This measure was decided by the French High Commissioner who also ordered Senegalese troops to patrol the streets of the Capital and occupy all strategic points in Beirut and other cities. The newspaper also says that a general strike was threatened a few days ago, but that thanks to the intervention of the Lebanese Premier, work is proceeding normally at present.

CAUSE OF CRISIS

Lebanese View Of Independence

The crisis, which has arisen in the Lebanon is due, as Reuter's diplomatic correspondent pointed out yesterday, the difference between the Lebanon Government and the French National Committee regarding the interpretation of the status of the independence of the Republic.

Sovereign Independence for Lebanon and for Syria was proclaimed by General Georges Catroux on behalf of the then Free French Committee in the Autumn of 1941, but the French Mandate over Lebanon and Syria remained in force if for no other reason because its termination could only be juridically effected by a legally constituted French Government and by the League of Nations or its successor.

The Lebanon Premier, announcing a Bill modifying the Constitution, said the Lebanon Government held that the Constitution as it stood was incompatible with full sovereignty. The French National Committee warned the Lebanon Government that it could not recognize the validity of a unilateral revision of the Constitution. Such a revision would have to await the termination of the Mandate.

Lebanon, says Reuter's diplomatic correspondent, is garrisoned by British and French troops in accordance with the condition stipulated in the Proclamation of Independence that the defence of Lebanon and Syria should be ensured by Great Britain and Fighting France during the war. There is, therefore, full means of maintaining law and order, he adds.

Turkish Cabinet Meeting

ANKARA, Nov. 11.

The Turkish Cabinet at a meeting lasting over three hours heard a report from the Foreign Minister Menemencioglu on his talks in Cairo with the British Foreign Secretary Mr. Anthony Eden. The German Ambassador, Von Papen, is expected to fly to Berlin on Saturday. He was to have left last week, but postponed his departure presumably to be able to report to the German Foreign Office on M. Menemencioglu's return.—Reuter.

De Gaulle Wants British Empire To Remain Intact

LONDON, Nov. 10.

General de Gaulle was asked tonight whether resistance delegates to the French National Committee of Liberation would agree to General Giraud's continuance as Commander-in-Chief if he did not explicitly disavow Vichy.

He replied, "I find the idea inconceivable that any great French leader should retain any link with Vichy. The Committee has already unanimously agreed to hand over Marshal Petain to justice as soon as circumstances permit".

Referring to Churchill's speech at Mansion House General de Gaulle said:

"Almost all French men are convinced of the necessity in future of great, strong and powerful Britain with her Empire."

PROTEST AGAINST PARDIVALA'S ARREST

Bombay Solicitors' Telegram To Punjab Premier

BOMBAY, November 11.

In connection with the arrest of Mr. Pardivala at Lahore Messrs Kanga and Co., Solicitors, Bombay, have sent a telegram to Malik Khizar Hyat Khan, Premier of the Punjab, stating that Mr. Pardivala proceeded to Lahore under their instructions in connection with a 'Habeas Corpus' application for Mr. Jaiprakash Narayan.

The police action, adds the telegram, constitutes interference with judicial procedure and rights of legal profession.

The solicitors earnestly request the Premier's personal interest in the matter, trusting that he will order Mr.Pardivala's release immediately.—United Press.

ALLIES GAIN NEW GROUND IN ITALY

Big Nazi Counterattack Broken By Americans: Modane Raided

LONDON, Nov. 11

The Algiers (United Nations) radio said that among the latest places captured by the Eighth Army are Rocca Sicura Rionero and Casalanguida.

The Fifth Army have improved their positions with the capture of Colli, two miles north-east of Fornelli, and Montaquila, two miles south of Colli, says Reuter's special correspondent at Allies Headquarters in North Africa. West of Venafro the Americans broke up a big German counter attack as it was forming.

General Montgomery's Eighth Army troops have reached Sangro River, the natural river defence line running in front of Field Marshal Rommel's prepared winter positions. This was reported in General Eisenhower's 'communique' to-day.

Other units of the Eighth Army, pushing north in the centre of the line, are now within five miles of Castel di Sangro, an important communications centre, having captured two more villages Rionero, and Rocca Sicura.

General Mark Clark's troops driving north on Rome, have captured two important heights in the Mignano sector.

Earlier the German controlled Rome radio said that American troops had made "some penetrations into our lines" in the upper reaches of the Volturno. Very bad weather prevails, especially on the Eighth Army front. Snow is falling on high mountain positions.

The British Air Ministry announces that last night aircraft of the Bomber Command made a heavy attack on the railway centre of Modane, a French frontier town near the entrance of Mont Cenis Tunnel in South-Eastern France. Weather over the target was clear and first reports indicate that the attack was well concentrated.

The Mont Cenis route is one of the only two railway links between Italy and France. The tunnel is one of the longest in the world—seven and a half miles long.

To-day's Cairo air 'communique' reports that continuing the offensive in the Aegean Sea area and Crete and the Dodecanese German airfields, harbours and transports were successfully attacked. Three Allied machines are missing.—Reuter

GEN. ROATTA TO LEAVE BADOGLIO GOVT.

ALGIERS, Nov. 11.

Reuter's special correspondent cables:

It is expected that Marshal Badoglio will speedily fulfil Britain's request to remove General Roatta from his Government. This is an example of the kind of action which the Badoglio Government is expected to take to fulfil its role of co-belligerent. The decision that General Roatta is unacceptable to the Allies undoubtedly has the agreement of Moscow and Washington.

It is pointed out that under the armistice terms the Allied Commander-in-Chief has the right to take any measures in the interests of the Allies. It is hoped that Marshal Badoglio will take all the necessary steps himself without external action and remove all factors which prejudice complete co-operation.—Reuter.

AMERY TO RETIRE?

LONDON, Nov. 11.

"Among those mentioned as possible retiring Ministers is the Secretary of State for India", says Reuter's Commentator on British internal affairs—He says:

It is generally expected Sir Arthur Saltar, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of War Transport who is returning from America for consultations with the Prime Minister on this matter, will be offered a key post in the readjusted administration.

In some respects he may be compared with Sir William Beveridge of Social security fame:

Among those mentioned as possible retiring Ministers is—the Secretary of State for India.

Mr. Amery at 71 years of age wishes to make way for an younger man, who will prepare for the time when Indian affairs will earn War Cabinet rank for the India Office Mr. Churchill will undoubtedly part with him with regret.—Reuter

Amery Refuses To Budge

NO NEW OFFER TO BURMANS

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 11

Mr. Amery told the Commons today, that he had nothing to add to his previous replies, when questioned by Mr. Sorensen (Labour) on the British Government's intentions regarding the reconstruction and rehabilitation of Burma after her liberation from the Japanese, whether Parliament would be asked to allocate money for this purpose, and whether he would be able to supplement his last April's statement concerning the future form of Government in Burma.

Border Clash With Japs

NEW DELHI, Nov. 11

A Gurkha force operating from a Jaggodepur on the Mayu Ridge has for some time been harassing the enemy's road link between Maungdaw and Buthidaung. In a series of engagements, writes an Indian army observer, in which all the natural fighting qualities of the Gurkha have been employed, the Japanese have been thrown back time and again with comparatively heavy casualties when trying to dislodge the Gurkhas.

During the bombing of Hoho on November 9, an R.A.F. Wellington bomber was attacked by Japanese night fighters for almost an hour. The crew succeeded in pressing home their attack and then got their damaged aircraft safely back to base.

Jap Out To Contest For Bougainville

Allied Headquarters, South-West Pacific, November 11: Allied ground forces, besides destroying 67 Japanese aircraft and sinking a 10,000 ton merchant vessel, have wiped out 150 Japanese troops—about half the strength of the force which landed north of the American beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay on Bougainville Island in the Solomons. The Japanese mean to contest the Allied occupation of Bougainville, but the appearance of Allied tanks and other heavy war equipment indicate General MacArthur's intention of making a speedy all out bid for the control of the island.

U. S. Planes Bomb Mingaladon 'Drome

NEW DELHI, Nov. 11.

In a night raid on November 10, "Liberators" of the 10th U. S. Air Force dropped demolition and incendiary bombs on Mingaladon aerodrome, at Rangoon. Several fires were started between Insein and Rangoon. The Japanese base at Kraukpyu, on Ramree Island, was also attacked.

"Mitchells" and fighter-bombers strafed and bombed engine revetments at Ywataung, on the Burma rail-road south-west of Mandalay.

Other formations of fighter-bombers attacked the Hopin railroad bridge with telling damage. At Sahmaw, part of the main factory was destroyed. In the Yupbang Ga area, all bombs fell on the designated target. Lonton was bombed from roof-top level and many fires were started.—A. P.

No U. S. Parleys For Australian Air Bases

MELBOURNE, Nov. 11: The Australian Prime Minister, Mr. John Curtin today denied that any proposal had been made to the Commonwealth by any country for the use of air bases after the war or for handing over territory for use as a base. He was referring to a report that negotiations had been begun by the United States with the Australian and New Zealand Governments for use of naval air bases.

A. I. N. E. Conference Plenary Sessions

BOMBAY, November 11.

The Secretary of the All-India Newspaper Editors' Conference says:—

The Standing Committee of the A.-I. N.E.C. has fixed 20th and 21st December, 1943 as the dates for the plenary session at Madras. In this connection, the attention of members is drawn to the following bye-laws:

Bye-laws under Rule 3 runs as follows:

"No member whose name is not on the register of the A.I.N.E.C. one month prior to the date of the conference shall be eligable to vote on the resolutions."

Bye-law under Rule 6 says: "No member who is in arrears of subscription shall be competent to participate in the election of the President or in the proceedings of the Conference."

Arrears of subscription should be paid to the Hon. Treasurer, A.I.N.E.C., 7 Barakhamba Road, New Delhi, or to the local convener in each province. New applications for enrolment should be submited to local conveners.—A. P.

Big Raids On Germany And France

LONDON, Nov 11

Eight United States Army Air Force Flying Fortresses, supported by Thunderbolts and Lightnings, attacked targets in Western Germany to-day, while Marauders, escorted and covered by Spitfires, attacked military objectives in Cherbourg in France, it is officially announced.

Londoners heard outward bound bombers passing over the Capital in a steady stream for more than one hour last night.

The last heavy raid was on the night of November 3, when over 2,000 tons of bombs were dropped on Dusseldorf in 27 minutes.

Mosquitos attacked objectives in Western Germany and mines were laid in enemy waters. None of our aircraft is missing.

Aircraft of the Fighter Command on intruder patrols bombed enemy airfields and transport targets in northern France and attacked enemy shipping off the French coast. Two aircraft of the Fighter Command are missing."—Reuter.

Germans Using Monster U-Boats In Atlantic

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.

Captain Arnold Isbell, Commander of the United States Aircraft carrier "Card" which took part in the recent convoy battle, disclosed here on Wednesday that the Germans are using a new monster U-boat in the Atlantic.

Describing them as "Cruiser type U-boats" he said they were much larger than anything seen before.

The submarine that was rammed by the United States destroyer 'Borie' which was sunk in the battle was of this type, which was equipped to stay on the surface and fight it out with destroyers.

Lieutenant Charles M. Hutchins Commander of the "Borie" said the rammed U-boat was the largest he had seen.—Reuter.

SOVIET THRUST WEST OF KIEV

BERLIN, Nov. 11: The German communique says the Russians continue to thrust forward west of Kiev.

A sea battle is raging day and night in the Kerch Straits. German ships are doing their utmost to interfere with the supply of food and munitions and reinforcements for the Soviet bridgeheads north and south of Kerch. These supplies must come across water and their passage is presenting considerable difficulty because, according to one frontline despatch, the Germans now know all the routes and possible landing points. While the battle rages, there is tempestuous storm in the straits. Soviet forces advancing westwards from Kiev have entered Zhitomir province. They are now marching rapidly on Zhitomir city, a vital link in the Germans' railway communications with the Leningrad and Odessa areas. Half of the Kiev province has now been occupied by the Red Army.—Reuter.

"ALLIES WON'T BE ABLE TO QUIT CONTINENT"

YORK, Nov. 11.

The Archbishop of York Dr. C. F. Garbett in his presidential address to the York Diocesan Conference to-day (Thursday) said that after his visit to Russia: "I came away more convinced than ever that the welfare and happiness of mankind for many years to come will depend very largely on close co-operation between Russia and Britain. Without such co-operation there can be no permanent peace. During my journeys to and from Russia, I met many men of experience who are personally acquainted with the position in Europe and the Middle East. They all quite independently spoke of it with utmost gravity.

Many countries are separated by a very thin crust from chaos. There is danger that there may be within them almost complete collapse of all we look upon as civilisation. It is doubtful in some parts of Europe, if it would be possible to have a stable and strong Government for years after the war. Russia, the United States and Britain will have to take great responsibilities in the first years of peace. We shall be unable to withdraw from the continent."—Reuter.

MINOO MASANI ELECTED MAYOR

In Thanking Members He Warns Bengal's Tragedy May Come To This City

The Congress Municipal Party scored a big victory in the Mayoral election on Thursday. Out of a total strength of 117 Councillors, 88 attended to record their votes. Mr. K. N. Joglekar, who is ill, was brought in on a stretcher to enable him to record his vote.

Dr. J. A. Collaco presided and declared that there were only two candidates for the Mayoral election viz: Mr. M. R. Masani and Dr. S. P. Mehta, and the councillors might proceed to record their votes in the ballot box. After half an hour the ballot box was closed and Dr. Collaco after counting the votes declared that Mr. Masani had received 52 votes and Dr. S. P. Mehta 36 votes. The members of the Congress Party present were 42 and 10 Independents gave their votes to Mr. Masani. Mr. Masani will hold office till 31st March, 1944.

Mr. Masani was escorted by Dr. Collaco to the Mayoral chair with a hearty shake of hand and amidst applause. He was then profusely garlanded by Mr. Motichand G. Kapadia and others.

MAYOR IS ABOVE POLITICS

Mr. Masani in thanking the House said:

I thank you for the great honour you have done me in electing me and for giving me an opportunity of serving this City which we all love. While I am grateful to you for the honour, I am not insensible of the fact that I have been placed in this Chair not so much by reason of any personal qualities of mine or of services rendered to this Corporation as of my allegiance to Mahatma Gandhi and to the Indian National Congress to which I am proud to belong. The office to which you have elected me is not, however, a political one and from now on I belong to this House and I am a servant of the citizens of Bombay. I would like to assure you that while I am in this Chair conducting your deliberations I shall not be in the least influenced by my affiliations. Every one of you has an equal right to attention and consideration on my part and I shall do my best to observe scrupulous impartiality between the different members and groups who constitute this Corporation.

AVERT MENACE

You have elected me to be Mayor of this City during dark days. The entire world is involved in the mass slaughter of a mad and futile war. To our own peace-loving country, the war has brought inflation and a man-made famine and, even as I speak,

Mr. Minoo R. Masani, who has been elected Mayor of Bombay.

our countrymen and women and children are dying through starvation in the provinces of Bengal, Orissa, Andhra and Malabar. The citizens of Bombay have, as ever on such occasions, distinguished themselves by their generosity in the relief of distress. It is a record of which we may justly be proud. But I hope we shall not therefore think we have done our duty. Charity is no solution to the situation that confronts us, nor is Bengal likely to be the only victim.

I feel it my duty to sound a serious warning that, despite all that has been done, we in this proud City of Bombay may be forced in a few months to see with our own eyes the sights which are at present disgracing the streets of Calcutta.

I am sure that if a serious endeavour is made in our province by all concerned to avert this ugly menace, this Corporation will be prepared to bear its proper share of the ourden.

In conclusion, I would like again to assure you of my desire to serve you all equally and to appeal to you for your co-operation, and indeed your indulgence, in the performance of my task.

Mr. Motichand G. Kapadia then moved adjournment of the House which was seconded by Mr. Jamnadas M. Mehta and carried.

The Mayor then adjourned the House till Monday next.

ON THE SENATE

At an earlier stage Dr. Collaco who presided declared Mr. Motichand G. Kapadia elected to represent the Corporation to the University Senate in place of Mr. S. L. Sifam.

Eden On Results Of Moscow Conference

NEW MACHINERY FOR ANGLO-AMERICAN-SOVIET ASSOCIATION

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 11.

The British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden speaking in the House of Commons today on the Moscow Conference said "I say at the outset of my speech that the results of the Conference exceeded my hopes." Mr. Eden said published statements about the Conference had been very full, so that he could not add much fresh matter.

He wanted, however, to make a few comments and give a few personal impressions. "Looking back across those 15 days work we did in the Soviet capital, I can say with absolute assurance that they have brought a new warmth and new confidence into all our dealings with our Soviet and American friends. The actual achievements of the Conference seem to me solid enough, but it was the friendly atmosphere of mutual interest and mutual confidence in which all those conversations took place which will, for me, always make the Moscow Conference memorable. I have yet to sit under a chairman who showed greater patience, skill and judgment than M. Molotov. It was to his handling of the long complicated agenda that must go a large measure of the credit for whatever success we achieved."

After a tribute to Mr. Cordell Hull, Mr. Eden said, "We were conscious from the beginning how much the future of millions of people was dependent on the outcome of our labours, and we were all the more determined to do everything in our power to make it a success." "We met round a table on the basis of complete equality." For obvious reasons, he could not add to what had been published about the military decisions.

"The results of our discussions under this head, can only be made public as they develop at the expense of the common enemy. I have confidence that this development will be found generally satisfactory. I believe perhaps those military discussions did more good to our unity than the frank and exhaustive examination which was made of them, than any other phase of the Conference. There was no tendency on the part of any delegate to dodge any of the difficulties and important issues these military matters raised.

As to the Four Nations' Declaration, nothing could give a better proof of Mr. Cordell Hull's vision and statesmanship than that declaration of which he is the parent. The principle agreed to in it constitutes on the whole probably the most far-reaching decision to which we came. The importance of this declaration is in the emphasis it lays on what is the decision of our four governments to continue our co-operation and collaboration after the war. It is absolutely essential that there should be between us a special machinery over and above the ordinary machinery of diplomatic interchange through which this country and its great Allies can work continuously together and concert rapidly and efficiently their views on many political problems which arise out of the war.

Our whole experience during this war has shown an urgent need for some such special machinery. Perhaps the greatest achievement of the Conference was to take steps in establishing this machinery". Mr. Eden said the European Advisory Commission was advisory in character and would be set up at once. Its duty would be to study and make joint recommendations to the three governments on any questions which the three governments agreed to refer to it. "The object we have in mind is to be able by this machinery to look ahead and make agreed plans for dealing with problems that will face us in the future. If we can do that, we shall be able to keep in step at every stage and thus avoid some of the delays and misunderstandings which occur when each of us makes plans separately.

I must emphasize this is not an executive body. It is a piece of machinery set up for the convenience of the three governments themselves and it is not an instrument for imposing their views on others. The truth must be faced. It is upon these three powers particularly, that will lie the responsibility for ensuring that this war is followed by a lasting peace. If we agree together there is no problem not capable finally of solution. If we do not agree together, there is no international event which cannot become an international problem."

Mr. Eden said that an organisation to deal with Allied victory towards Italy would be set up at once. He believed this Italian council would be useful in ensuring common policy among them in regard to Italy. Soviet representatives at the Conference had been given an account of the history of Allied military government in Italy and its principles. "As the result of that and our discussions, we had no difficulty at all in reaching agreement on the declaration regarding the policy in Italy—a declaration which was in itself also an important element in creating understanding between our three countries.

Summing up the machinery created at the Conference, Mr. Eden said if it worked well, as he had every hope it would, it could make a substantial contribution to the winning of the war and still more the winning the peace. Mr. Eden said there had been full exchange of views on the future economic responsibilities and all the three found themselves in agreement on the programme for handling these vast problems, on many of which work had already begun.

The last chance for the Germans of creating disunity between the three Allied powers was completely and finally destroyed.

Mr. Eden was cheered loudly when he read the declaration regarding the trial and punishment of war criminals. Regarding the remainder of the agenda, Mr. Eden said, "There was no major political question in Europe which was not a subject of discussion between us in some form or other. I am not going to pretend that we agreed on every point. That would have been an international millennium and we are nowhere near that yet, but we do now know each other's points of view on all these subjects."

Mr. Eden continued. "The Anglo-American-Soviet Association is based on the firmest of all foundations the common interest in peace and ensuring that no aggressor shall again break the peace."

Mr. Eden denied emphatically that the Moscow Conference implied any sort of dictatorship imposed by the three powers. They would need advice of the others, but the present machinery did not exclude further developments in the future.

Of his meeting with the Turkish Minister, Mr. Eden said "We exchanged views on the general situation in the light of the results of the Moscow Conference. My Turkish colleague has now returned to Ankara to report on the outcome of these conversations to his Government. Meanwhile there is nothing further I can say."—Reuter.

ASSEMBLY AND FAMINE

Famine conditions in Bengal and other parts of the country are naturally figuring prominently in the Central Legislative Assembly. So far the questions and answers in the House have been desultory. But they have made it clear enough that the Food Member is not prepared to assume responsibility for Mr. Amery's amazing statement in the Commons that the death rate in Bengal was only 1,000 a week. He added, however, that reports from certain districts showed there had been a perceptible improvement in conditions. Vague assurances like this will not convince the public unless supported by precise facts and figures. Sir Jwala Prasad also stated that 5,400 relief centres had been opened, but the grievance is widespread that the gruel allowances given at the centres are, Mr. K. C. Neogy said, pronounced by experts to be not sufficient "to keep a fair-sized rat alive." Sir Jwala Prasad replied that he was told that they were quite sufficient and in some cases too much. It would have been more straightforward for him to state what precisely was the quantity of the gruel given to persons of different ages. The people would then judge for themselves. Mr. Neogy has declared publicly in a statement that in many places the rations are only a fourth of those prescribed by the Famine Code. If the facts are as stated, the persons so woefully underfed may die a slow lingering death either through starvation or some disease like malaria induced by continued malnutrition.

It is something that a general agreement has been arrived at among four parties in the Assembly on the terms of the amendment to the Food Member's motion to take the famine situation into consideration. The Muslim League, the Independent and the Nationalist Parties and the European Group are reported to have all agreed on the demand for a Royal Commission to enquire into the causes of the food crisis and make recommendations about relief and the prevention of a recurrence of the trouble. The Congress Party is understood to have refrained from supporting this demand owing to a suspicion that an all-White Commission might whitewash many ugly features of the trouble. But the Commission need not be—indeed, it must not be—an all-White one. It ought to be predominantly Indian as such a Commission alone will inspire confidence in the public. However, the discussions on this subject in the Assembly or elsewhere should not be allowed to interfere in the least with the actual organisation of relief. Indeed, we approve of an enquiry only on the ground that it is likely to suggest most efficient methods of relief and of preventing scarcity in the near future.

De Gaulle's Success

The French National Committee of Liberation seems at last to have emerged out of the anomalous position in which it had been labouring for so long. It has now become a normal institution with one President instead of a double-headed freak. The retirement of General Giraud will be widely welcomed because General de Gaulle deserved the leadership of Fighting France by virtue both of his personal record and of his popularity with Frenchmen. Incidentally, it is noteworthy that if the new change is a defeat for General Giraud and the remaining vestiges of Vichyism it is also a defeat of American and British diplomacy which was mainly responsible for pushing General Giraud to the top as against General de Gaulle.

But the vindication of de Gaulle need not lead to any optimistic hope that the France which will arise under him will be genuinely democratic in the real spirit of the Atlantic Charter, for instance. General de Gaulle is as firm an Imperialist as any one else. He has made no secret of his pride in the French "Empire" and he has taken the earliest opportunity of greeting the Imperialist sentiments of Mr. Winston Churchill doubtless as a fellow-Imperialist. Moreover, there is trouble in the Lebanon. Vague references in Reuter's earlier cables to some amendment to the constitution decided upon by the Chamber, to a "very tense" situation involving the presence of "French armed forces" and the Lebanese Premier's "warning to French authorities' are very significant. The latest messages indicate that martial law has been proclaimed in Lebanon and the Premier and two ministers have been arrested and that the cause of the trouble is the familiar conflict between promise and the performance as regards the independence of the country. All this is very intriguing and we in India as people in the Middle East will await further developments with special interest.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Japs In S. W. Pacific

At a press conference the other day, Colonel Frank Knox, the U. S. Navy Secretary, said that the present situation in the south and south-west Pacific "supported the statement that the Japanese are now in a more critical situation than ever before," fighting not so much for the positions that they hold as for actual survival in the south-west area." Colonel Knox never makes rash statements and his present view is more than amply supported by recent events. The Japs have not been able to stop General MacArthur from island hopping, capturing one Jap base after another. The enemy has not thrown his battle fleet into the fight, but in his defensive attempts he has been losing heavily in cruisers and destroyers and in aircraft which are being destroyed at the rate of several hundreds every week.

Its Great Value

The result is that while, on the one hand, the Japanese cannot effectively stop MacArthur's progress, they cannot, on the other hand, let him move forward without contesting his advance at heavy cost to themselves. And as MacArthur advances the intensity and, therefore, the costliness of Japanese resistance must increase. But since it is clear that the South-West Pacific cannot constitute the main theatre of the battle with the Japs, the value of General MacArthur's offensive lies in the fact that it contains a great part of Japanese naval and air power and thus renders the task of the South-East Asia command much easier. It is a trap in which the Japs have been caught inescapably. The line is clear for Lord Louis Mountbatten.

Deserved Honour

The Bombay Municipal Corporation may be congratulated on electing Mr. M. R. Masani as Mayor by a decisive majority of 52 votes against 36. The voting shows that his election was not due merely to the votes of the Congress Party, whose nominee he was. He enlisted the support of a number of independent councillors. His election was due in no small measure to his personal qualities. He is an able and intensely earnest public worker. In many respects he is like the ex-Mayor, Mr. Yusuf Meherally, who, we are happy to learn, is now steadily improving and almost past danger. When Mr. Masani said that after his election as Mayor he would cease to belong to any one party but would belong to the House as a whole, he meant every word of his declaration and we have no doubt that he will display scrupulous impartiality in all his work.

Beware

While thanking the Corporation for electing him Mayor, Mr. Masani said: "I feel it my duty to sound a serious warning that, despite all that has been done, we in this proud City of Bombay may be forced in a few months to see with our own eyes the sights which are at present disgracing the streets of Calcutta." He had reason to sound the note of warning. Deaths from starvation have not been unknown in Bombay city. But in many cases they go unnoticed by the public, especially when death is due to some disease caused by malnutrition. But the case of the woman who was found dead in the Fort area and reduced to a mere bag of bones, together with two hungry children and an old man, himself terribly emaciated from starvation, should open the eyes of the authorities and the public alike. It will not do to say that every one can get his or her ration in the city at a reasonably low price. What looks like a reasonable price is far above the means of many. That has been the cause of many tragedies in the city of Calcutta. They should be prevented here through timely precautions.

Fyzee On Islamic Culture

BOMBAY, Thursday.

Any culture should be studied in the manner in which art or poetry is studied, observed Mr. A. A. A. Fyzee, Principal of the Government Law College addressing a distinguished gathering on the occasion of the K. R. Cama Birth Anniversary on Thursday, while delivering a discourse on "Islamic Culture". Diwan Bahadur K. M. Jhaveri, presided.

The speaker said that all cultures had something in common, and in essence one culture did not differ from another. To illustrate this point further, the speaker compared Islamic culture with other prominent cultures of the world and stressed on the peculiarities of Islamic Culture.

Mr. Fyzee drew a graphic picture of the evolution of Islamic Culture from the early ages of Islam.

Diwan Bahadur Jhaveri thanked the speaker for his illuminating address.

Action Against Hotels And Lodging House

Action has been taken against some hotels and lodging houses in Bombay City under the Bombay Hotel Control Order. Mr. T. Luby, Controller of Hotels, has inspected a number of establishments; both European and Indian and has reduced the charges in the case of five hotels and three boarding houses already.

The Hotel Control Order applies only to hotels which have lodgers. Any complaint that the public may have to make may be forwarded to the Controller of Hotels, Secretariat, Bombay.

NO EUROPEAN DEATHS IN BENGAL FAMINE

Amery Explains Why Canadian Wheat Is Not Being Moved To India: Wheat Shipped From Australia

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 11.

Mr. Amery answered a number of questions about India at question time in the House of Commons to-day.

In telling Mr. Sloan (Labour) that he had not heard of any deaths of European British subjects among the victims of the present famine in India, he pointed out that His Majesty's Indian subjects were also of British nationality no less than Europeans.

Mr. Amery told Mr. Nicholson (Conservative) that troops were being allocated to the worst affected districts in Bengal to assist the civil authorities in the movement of grain to villages, using military transport where possible. They would also assist in providing temporary shelters for the people. Arrangements for close liaison with civil authorities had been made and medical appliances and personnel were being made available. Military arrangements were reported at the end of last week as having started working with encouraging results. Dispatch of food grains to Calcutta had increased by over 50 per cent and the military machinery for detailed distribution was already working. "I think there is good reason to be satisfied with the progress made", he added.

Mr. Kirkwood (Labour) asked whether Mr. Amery would contradict the rumour that people in Britain were responsible for the starvation that was going on.

Mr. Amery: "I hope Sir John Anderson and myself made the situation clear in the debate the other day."

There was no answer when Sir Alfred Knox (Conservative) asked whether there could not be some propaganda in America to tell.

Mr. Sorensen (Labour) asked Mr. Amery for the following information: "When the report of the Food Grains Policy Committee, presided over by Sir Theodore Gregory, will be available, why only 150,000 tons of wheat was received out of the full amount asked for; what action is being taken to secure 500,000 tons to create a Central Food Grains Reserve and one million tons for current consumption as recommended in the report; and whether shipping is being made available to convey the 100,000 tons of wheat offered by the Canadian Government and 500,000 pounds of condensed milk offered by the South African Government."

Mr. Amery replied: "The report of the Food Grain Policy Committee was to be published in India at the end of the last week and a summary was included in the recent White Paper. The report, in referring to the winter and spring of 1942-43 includes the statement that more than 150,000 tons of wheat were imported into India. Further shipments were suspended in May 1943 with the concurrence of the Government of India in view of the excellent Punjab wheat harvest. As regards current imports I have nothing to add to what was said by the Chancellor of the Exchequer and myself in the debate on November 4. His Majesty's Government appreciate the generous offer of the Canadian Government to present 100,000 tons of wheat to the Government of India. The shipping position presents great difficulties and the broad position is that wheat can be shipped from Australia in under half the time and, therefore, with much greater economy in shipping. This consideration is likely to make it impossible to move any great part of the Canadian offer at present. Substantial quantities are already being shipped from Australia and further shipments have been planned. Milk products offered by the South African Government will be shipped."

BENGAL MINISTERS' TOUR TO EXPLAIN 'AMAN' CROP POLICY

Bihar Freezes Calcutta's Purchases: Kunzru On Orissa's Disastrous Exports

CALCUTTA, Nov. 11.

The Council of Ministers have, it is learnt, decided to undertake shortly a tour of the whole Province in order to explain the policy of the Bengal Government with regard to the "Aman" (winter) crop, to the public, especially to the agriculturists.

75 Dead

The Director of Public Information states that on November 10 there were 112 admissions of sick destitutes in the Calcutta hospitals out of whom 75 died.

The Bengal Relief Committee have received a donation of Rs. 5,000 from the "Sansar Samachar", Karachi.

BIHAR FREEZES BENGAL PURCHASES!

PATNA, Nov. 10.

A Press Note says: The Government of Bihar have issued order for the "freezing" of all stocks of food grains purchased under the contract during the free trade period, that is between May 18 and July 31, 1943 for the purpose of export to Bengal.

The order will apply to all stocks for which export permits have been issued but have not yet moved as well as to stocks for which applications are pending with the District Magistrates. This order will not apply to stocks already loaded in railway wagons or stocks in transmit.

Orissa Squeezed Despite Famine, Says Kunzru

ALLAHABAD, Nov. 11: Dr. Hirdayanath Kunzru, President of the Servants of India Society, who has returned from a tour of Bengal and Orissa said:

"Some parts of Orissa suffered from cyclone of the last year. This year's crops in certain portions have been damaged by floods. Happily, these misfortunes have not afflicted the whole province. But in the famine-stricken areas the same symptoms as in Bengal are being observed—emaciation, desertion of wives and children, sale of houses and lands by cultivators and landless labourers."

"It appears about fifty lakhs of maunds of rice are exported annually from Orissa. Exportable surplus may be regarded as having been wiped out due to damage to crops. Nevertheless more than twenty-eight lakhs of maunds of rice were exported from Orissa during the free trade policy and the Chief Minister of Orissa has agreed to export another four and a half lakhs of maunds of rice out of which four lakhs have been exported. It is thus clear that "notwithstanding the distress prevailing in Orissa and failure of relief work by official and non-official agencies for lack of adequate suuply of rice, the Government of India have exacted same quantity of rice from Orissa as exported by it in normal years."—United Press.

JINNAH TO PARTICIPATE IN FOOD DEBATE

NEW DELHI, Nov. 11.

Mr. Jinnah, it is learned, will attend the meetings of the Central Assembly during the food debate and may participate in the discussion on Tuesday next. He will hold discussions with the Provincial Premiers on Saturday and Monday. The Premiers are likely to be invited to the meeting of the Working Committee on November 13. Mr. Jinnah is expected to address the Council of the Muslim League on November 14.

The Working Committee meets on November 13.—A. P.

DEATHS IN BALASORE

CUTTACK: There were 72 deaths in Balasore District during the week ending November 5 due to starvation, according to a statement made by the Chief Secretary to the Government of Orissa at a Press Conference this morning.

INDIAN FAMINE NOT IN UNITED NATIONS' RELIEF TALKS

Bajpai To Represent India At Atlantic City Conference

LONDON, Nov. 11.

From Reuters' special correspondent in Atlantic City.

Despite the expresed hopes of some delegates it was learned authoritatively here that the famine in India will not be considered in the discussions of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration Conference.

An official pointed out that while the Japanese offensive has cut off part of India's supply of rice, it is hoped the next three months will see a marked change in the situation and the worst will be over. It is reliably stated that the question of India does not appear in the Conference's tentative agenda.

The Director of United States Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation, Mr. Herbert Lehman, said he was sure the conference would achieve harmony on all important questions. It would certainly be the most important conference until after the war.

Calcutta Indian Chamber Protests

That the United Nations Relief Rehabilitation Agreement should have been placed before the Central Legislature and Indian public opinion invited on the various provisions of the Agreement, is emphasised in a telegram addressed to the Government of India, Department of Commerce, by the Committee of the Indian Chamber of Commerce, Calcutta, who state that India's meagre resources have already been strained utmost for the prosecution of the war and that no additional burdens should be imposed upon India whose own economy has suffered disequilibrium and needs relief and rehabilitation.

The Committee are further of the opinion that relief should be procured and distributed only through a country's own commercial agency or agencies and that extraneous organisations like the U.K.C.C. should not be entrusted with the functions of sale and purchase of commodities for relief and rehabilitation.

Bombay Women And Hindu Succession Bill

A resolution calling upon the Government of India to publish in the 'Government Gazette' in English as well in provincial languages the text of the Hindu Succession Bill and the Select Committee's report thereon was passed unanimously at a public meeting of Hindu women organized under the joint auspices of the Bhatia Stri Mandal, the Gujarati Hindu Stri Mandal and several other Hindu women's organizations of the city at the premises of the Gujarati Hindu Stri Mandal, Vithalbhai Patel Road, on Thursday evening. Lady Taraben Mehta presided.

Lady Mehta in moving the resolution said that such translation was necessary to enable Hindu women to form their opinion on the Bill.

Among other speakers were Babi ben Mulji, Kusumben Munshi, Bochasanwali Begum Jhaveri and Kalavathiben Pareekh. [illegible]

No Rival To Congress Lodging Houses

NEW DELHI, November 11.

"No appeasement of the Indian people is possible unless the national leaders are released and their co-operation is sought for," says Mr. Gopinath Srivastava, who is on a visit to Delhi, in a statement.

He adds: "I have been receiving numerous enquiries if a definite date has been fixed for the meeting of Congressmen. As stated in my last statement we are awaiting an indication of the policy the new Viceroy proposes to pursue in regard to the political deadlock; for obvious reasons that proposed meeting is intended not to offer an alternative leadership to the Congress High Command nor to attempt any negotiation with the Government over their head.

"The date of the meeting when finally fixed up will be announced [illegible] in good time."—United Press.

EROS & NEW EMPIRE CALL TO PATRIOTS

"The Fighting French" In March Of Time Series

BY T. V. P.

Eros theatre has very inspiring film material on show from to-day. The feature film is 20th Century Fox's "To-night We Raid on Calais". The picture vividly portrays the damage and havoc caused by R.A.F. to occupied France and in the midst of it the spirit of resistance and the will to be free again of the French saboteurs in spite of incalculable Nazi tortures.

Along with this film will also be shown "The Fighting French" the March of Time short of 1,850 feet. In this footage, you will see what General Charles de Gaulle has been doing to rescue his country from the Nazis, what the Colonial French and the United Nations are doing to help him, and above all how the underground activities of patriotic Frenchmen in occupied France are doing to help him.

"THIS LAND IS MINE" AT EMPIRE

An equally inspiring story of the heroism of a school master and school mistress in a little village somewhere in Europe, but under Nazi occupation comes to New Empire from to-day. It is an R. K. O. Radio film starring Charles Laughton and Maureen O'Hara.

"The Goose Steps Out" at Excelsior stars Will Hay who pokes funs at Nazis in his subtle way. He has to play a College Professor who is arrested in mistake as a spy. This provides for many hilarious occasions.

"Presenting Lily Mars" stars Judy Garland and Van Heflin. For the smart girl that Judy is this musical comedy provides several occasions for creating clean fun and singing a lot at Metro.

"When Johnny Comes Marching Home" is a sparkling comedy drama at Eros. Gloria Jean, Peggy Ryan and Jones in featured roles. The film is an enjoyable musical.

20TH CENTURY WEEK AT STRAND

On Friday and Saturday "How Green Was My Valley"; on Sunday "My Gal Sal"; on Monday "This Above All"; on Tuesday "Sun Valley Serenade"; on Wednesday "Son of Fury" and on Thursday "Song of the Islands" will be revived at Strand.

"A Yank at Eton" starring Mickey Rooney will be shown at Palace and "Road to Morocco" starring Dorothy Lamarr at Aurora.

All-Bengal Flood And Famine Relief Committee

The All-Bengal Flood and Famine Relief Committee which is giving relief through work has already commenced work. Two spinning and weaving centres at Adhunagar and Padua have been started in Chittagong district with 500 spinners and 40 weavers. The number of spinners is expected to be increased soon to 1,000. Three spinning centres at Lakshminagar, Beharjuria and Bankura have been started with 600 spinners and 40 weavers. A donation of Rs. 2,000 has been contributed to Khadi Mandir of Diamond Harbour for spinning and weaving. In this centre 400 spinners are working and the production during October was about 9 maunds of yarn. The Committee also propose to help Seva Sangha of Contai to expand their spinning and weaving activities in Contai District. Here at present 200 spinners are working with a monthly production of about 3 maunds of yarn. A sum of Rs. 2,000 has been sanctioned for the purpose. The Committee also intend to help the Vidya Ashram of Dacca and Gayagarh Silpa Ashram of Faridpur district for increasing their spinning and weaving work. Preparations are nearly complete for starting work on spinning and weaving in Tamluk, Murshidabad and in Barisal. The Committee has distributed 900 maunds of Kshesari seeds in Contai, Tamluk and Diamond Harbour at half cost. A donation of Rs. 1,000 has been given to the Ramkrishna Mission, Sarisha Ashram (Diamond Harbour) for mat industry. A children's home has been started at Jhargram (Midnapur) capable of accommodating 100 destitute children.

TÊTE-À-TÊTE

WITHOUT COMMENT—

On this day (November 11) sacred to the memory of the heroes who fell during the war of 1914-18, we think with feelings of profound reverence of their struggle to uphold the cause of human freedom and civilisation, states Sir Rustom Masani, Provincial Leader, National War Front, Bombay, in an Armistice Day message.

—Press Report.

The British paper, "Reynolds News" points out that "India is a test case of the principles for which the British people are fighting" this war.

What is more, the test case has already conclusively proved the principles for which the British are fighting.

Defending the British Empire, Lord Halifax explained to an American audience two guiding principles in British Colonial Government. "The first is the principle of trusteeship that we are where we are not for our own profit but for the good of the governed."

You needn't ask whether the noble and Christian Lord was speaking in the name of Christ or that of the City of London and the famous "Cousinhood" of the governing classes.

The noble Lord's "second—perhaps slightly younger in point of time—is the business of progressive education in the business of Self-Government."

Since the present British Empire is not much more than 100 years old it will be agreed that the second principle is only slightly younger than the first and, of course, equally genuine.

Applauding Mr. Winston Churchill's Mansion House speech, General de Gaulle says: "Almost all Frenchmen are convinced of the necessity in future of a great, strong and powerful Britain with her Empire."

We are not surprised. There ought always to be honour among the brotherhood of Imperialism.

Pointing to the lack of any reference to India and the food crisis in Mr. Churchill's speech, Dr. Subbaroyan asks: "Will my friends of the Muslim League read this portent aright?"

And let their League go awry? Nothing doing. Doctor Subbaroyan can't delude his Muslim League friends into reading portents.

The usually cautious Colonel Knox now feels justified in asserting that as a result of recent blows in the South-West Pacific, "the Japanese are now in a more critical position than ever before."

MacArthur is doing his best to make it easy for the South-East Asia Command. And it is a successful best, too.

He had been to a party and wondered how he could get upstairs without waking his wife. Then he had a brilliant brain-wave. Tying the fire-irons round his neck he began his ascent, chuckling to himself. "She'll never hear me with all this noise going on."

'AMERY MUST GO' MOVE IN 'ELDERS'

NEW DELHI, Nov. 11.

A resolution in the name of Mr. G. S. Motilal seeking "to convey to H. M. Government that the people of India do not want Mr. Amery to hold the office of the Secretary of State for India any longer" has secured the first place in the ballot for non-official resolutions for November 24 in the Council of State.

If the above is disallowed, Mr. G. S. Motilal will sponsor another resolution requesting H. M. Government "to modify the Cripps' proposals so as to make them acceptable to the people of India."

Mr. Narayandas Girdhardas has a resolution expressing the Council's "deep sense of appreciation of bold and prompt steps taken by Lord Wavell for the relief of famine in Bengal" and expecting "a similar brave gesture in the sagacious release of Congress leaders."—A. P.

INDIVIDUAL RATION CARDS

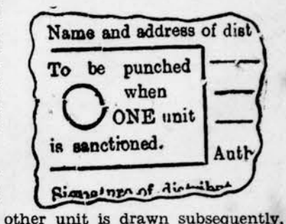
Here are a few points about your Individual Ration Cards which will replace the current family ration cards on their expiry.

A punched card means it is a child's card with only one unit.

In the individual ration card there is a column against each rationed article and the columns are divided into squares for each week.

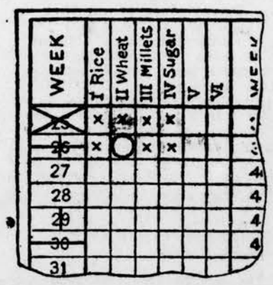
You can spread your purchases on the cards over the whole ration week by using the card of one family member on one day and that of another on a subsequent day.

Each adult card which contains two units can again be used on two occasions during a ration week for one unit each time. That is to say on each of the two occasions the adult card will be treated as a one-unit card and commodities would be drawable as on a one unit card. A child's card can be used only once.



When you draw one unit or less, a vertical line will be drawn in the square bearing the number of the week concerned. When the other unit is drawn subsequently, a horizontal line will be drawn making a sign of plus and thereby denoting that the week has been completed.

When both the units are drawn or more than one unit, the square of the week will be crossed with two diagonal lines making a sign of multiplication. No more can be drawn for this week thereafter.



In the squares against the commodities purchased, small crosses will be drawn and squares against those not purchased at all will be left blank and the ration card holder should draw a circle over them after the ration week is over.

See that your shop-keeper crosses the weeks correctly. Insist on his giving you a cash memo for each transaction, that is, not for each card but for each occasion when you use your family ration cards.

When a family splits or a servant leaves, the persons thus leaving should carry their individual ration cards with them. The change of address and of house-holder should be reported to the Rationing Office of the Ward where the person has gone to reside.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE NEWS

BOMBAY, Thursday.

Lady Colville visited the Headquaters of the Bombay Women's Voluntary Corps (Red Cross) the Red Cross War Supplies Depot and the Sir Alwyn Ezra Canteen for Troops in the Town Hall.

The Governor of Bombay and Lady Colville attended a Piano Recital at the Regal Cinema given by Madame Craen in aid of the Poppy Day Appeal Fund.

Poppy Day In City

BOMBAY, Thursday.

Bombay and its Suburbs celebrated November 11, Armistice Day, in its usual spirited style of a large scale drive in selling poppies.

From early morning a part of the feminine population of the city stationed themselves at every vantage point to collar and buttonhole every pedestrian into buying a poppy.

Office goers and factory workers had to take it on their chins and dig into take no for an answer.

Looking at the collections taken the appeal issued by General Claude Auchinleck, C.-in-C. of India is assured of ample support. In addition to the substantial figure that is expected to be collected the donations sent to the Local Committees and to General Headquarters in Delhi will go to swell the collections taken in this year Poppy Day

PROGRESS OF BANK OF JAIPUR

The Statutory report of the Bank of Jaipur Limited, was presented at the Statutory Meeting of the Members of the Bank held at the registered office at Jaipur on the 6th November 1943. This reveals that the bank which started operations in April 1943 has made real progress during this very short time. Considering that the bank was started only six months ago and that within this short time it has been able to open not less than six branches, three of which are in Bombay, the statement of receipts and payments as on the the 30th September last is noteworthy.

The Bank has been started with an authorised capital of Rs. 2 crores, of which Rs. 1 crore is issued and subscribed, the paid-up capital being over Rs. 49 lakhs. The Statement shows over Rs. 1,81,00,000 at the foot of the current, savings, fixed and other accounts. Against this loans and advances amount to Rs. 1,07,11,690, and bills purchased and discounted amount to Rs. 5,48,801. These figures speak for themselves.

Preliminary expenses were estimated at Rs. 25,000 but the management were able to keep down this item to a little over Rs. 16,000.

I feel it necessary to remind Mr. Amery that Dr. M. R. Jayakar who drew the public's attention to the poor attendance in the House of Commons is a member of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

I went to the United Nations Ball at the Brabourne Stadium. I have seldom attended a function so hopelessly mismanaged. The loud-speaker was hopelessly inaudible; the service was worse than the worst Irani shops. It was impossible to expect Frank Collins to do any justice to the auction, when no one could hear a word of what he was saying, no one could see who was bidding, and no one knew what was being sold. But for the fact that one gave and gave gladly because of the very deserving cause, I think it was gross impertinence to charge for a show so disappointing as this. There should be some sort of check on this sort of boredom which we have to endure in the name of charity. It was, however, nice to see the wife of the Chinese Consul selling programmes, for stricken Bengal; to see Americans sweating for hours serving at the bar, to see Polish refugee children come all the way from Kholapur to dance; to see a Free Frenchman, Elli Guetta, pay Rs. 2,000 for a silver-bowl in the auction; to see a Russian, Mr. Ortens, pay Rs. 600 for a plaque; to see British sailors dance the hornpipe. The United Nations were there, but where was the Ball?

SOME RECIPES

Bajri is eaten in several ways. A few of the recipes are given below. Bajri may admit of other recipes by itself or in combination with other articles. Ingenious housewives may find it interesting to experiment and try out various other preparations.

This is a well-known and common preparation. A little salt may be added for taste after the flour is mixed with warm water.

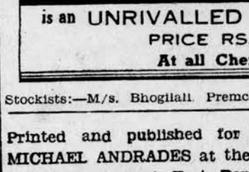
This is chapati made from a mixture of bajri, rice and gram flour in equal proportion.

Bajri should be lightly ground and the flour mixed with pulses (particularly moong) and then boiled together. Salt is added for taste.

Bajri is lightly ground mixed with water and boiled. After cooling the dough is made up into small balls.

Bajri chapati is broken into small pieces, mixed with ghee and gur and rolled into balls.

Bajri is thrown into a pan containing hot sand and stirred. When the grains begin to crackle and swell, the contents are run off and parched bajri is separated by sieving.



FREE DEMONSTRATIONS

Free demonstrations of the above recipes as well as some others will be given to housewives at the following places:—

1) B. Tambe Ltd., Hamam St., Fort, — — — 4 P.M. to 6|30 P.M.
2) 'CONA', near Majestic Cinema, Girgaum, 11|30 A.M. to 3 P.M.
